Background in mediation as it relates to primary industries

Jennifer provides high level expertise in litigation, an advisory legal service, international commercial arbitration and mediation in Australia and Asia. Jennifer's work as an arbitrator for the local and district courts means that Jennifer regularly travels to rural areas of NSW to act as the decision maker. The majority of these disputes are rural and situated in areas such as Illawarra, Tamworth, Port Macquarie etc. This has involved water rights, construction of rural roads, stud agistments, NSW National parks prosecutions including defending a rural NSW macadamia nut farmer to name a few.
