Background in mediation as it relates to primary industries

I have lived on, worked on, and owned farms: and over the last 25 years have mediated several hundred rural matters including those that arise from catastrophic weather events, the breakdown of family, partnership or matrimonial relationships, farm debts and estates. These range from a beekeeper with a debt of $15,000 to a station owner with a debt of $170,000,000. My philosophy is, and has always been, that people are more important than money that in the mediation process, 'fairness' is paramount.
